Course Description

Screening, Brief Intervention, and Referral to Treatment (SBIRT) is an evidence-based practice used to identify, reduce, and prevent problematic use, abuse, and dependence on alcohol and illicit drugs. Caron's SBIRT modules will (1) highlight various screening tools available to assess for harmful and hazardous substance use patterns, (2) demonstrate motivational interviewing techniques to guide students and patients towards healthy change, and (3) identify resources should further assessment or treatment be needed.

After completing the course, participants will be able to:

- Define each step of Screening, Brief Intervention, and Referral to Treatment
- Understand the progressive nature of substance use disorders and the importance of early intervention
- Describe the efficacy of SBIRT as a strategy in addressing harmful and hazardous substance use behavior patterns
- Identify effective screening tools to use with students, patients, and clients
- Utilize motivational interviewing techniques to move people toward positive change during a brief intervention
- Identify appropriate school-based and community resources if a referral for further assessment is necessary

Caron's Digital Learning

With over 60 years of successfully treating addiction and behavioral health issues, Caron understands that prevention and early intervention are key to addressing problematic substance use among youth. Working with over 900 schools and child-serving organizations each year, we are well known for the quality of our education and prevention programs. We are excited to now offer a digital learning program allowing those unable to access our in-person programs to also benefit from our quality programming.

Course Structure and Offerings

Courses are designed to be interactive to engage participants and enhance their ability to learn and retain knowledge. Depending on the topic and the goal, courses may include video, animation, audio narration, and text as well as interactive tools like pop-up screens and drag-and-drop questions.

Learners can expect to complete knowledge checks after each topic to ensure understanding of the material and receive a certificate upon completion for each course.

Caron's Education Department Mission:

To provide comprehensive substance use education and supportive services along the full continuum of care, from prevention to recovery, for students, families, and professionals, using evidence-informed and innovative strategies.
